

Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures

The department of modern and classical languages and literatures offers courses of study leading to the Master of Arts (MA) degree in Spanish.

Programs in Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures

- MA in Spanish (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/graduate/fairmount-liberal-arts-sciences/modern-classical-languages-literatures/ma-spanish/>)
- Dual/Accelerated Bachelor's to Master's Program in Spanish (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/graduate/fairmount-liberal-arts-sciences/modern-classical-languages-literatures/dualaccelerated-bachelors-masters-program-spanish/>)

Certificates in Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures

- Certificate in Hispanic Cultural Studies (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/graduate/fairmount-liberal-arts-sciences/modern-classical-languages-literatures/certificate-hispanic-cultural-studies/>)
- Certificate in Spanish for the Professions (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/graduate/fairmount-liberal-arts-sciences/modern-classical-languages-literatures/certificate-spanish-professions/>)

Courses in Modern and Classical Languages and Literatures

- French (FREN) (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/graduate/courses/fren/>)
- German (GERM) (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/graduate/courses/germ/>)
- Latin (LATN) (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/graduate/courses/latn/>)
- Spanish (SPAN) (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/graduate/courses/span/>)

Note: Upper-division SPAN courses are given on a rotating basis.

SPAN 400 is a prerequisite for all upper-division literature and civilization courses, unless otherwise indicated.