

MEd in Special Education - High Incidence

The Master of Education or endorsement in special education - high incidence at Wichita State University prepares educators for teaching students with mild to moderate disabilities. The program is designed to develop reflective practitioners who possess both theoretical understanding and practical skills related to a) the field of special education for students with functional learning needs, b) effective communication and collaboration, and c) research-validated practices. The special education - high incidence program prepares professional practitioners to make curricular and instructional modifications in order to facilitate successful student learning. Courses are offered online enabling graduate students to earn their degree while employed full time and balancing other obligations.

Admission

To be considered for admission to the special education high incidence program, applicants must meet the following requirements:

- For full admission, students must have a GPA of 2.750 or better;
- Applicants with a GPA below 2.750 are required to meet one of the following:
 - GRE scores of at least 150 in verbal reasoning, 148 in quantitative reasoning, and 3.5 in analytical writing;
 - Miller Analogies Test (MAT) score of 400 or above;
- A current Kansas initial teaching certificate/license (or eligible for a certificate/license) is required for admission; and
- Full admission to the WSU Graduate School.

Applications are evaluated when received for the the special education high incidence program.

Program Requirements

The fully online Master of Education in special education — high incidence may be earned under a nonthesis option — 30 credit hours of coursework, practical experience and the culminating experience. Candidates may elect to complete only the 23 credit hours of required courses as preparation to apply for an endorsement.

Background Check

Upon admission and prior to their first semester, all applicants admitted to this program must clear a criminal background check. There are two reasons for this requirement. First, it is part of the university’s due diligence before placing students in field settings. Second, the check may alert applicants or students to issues that may subsequently affect their ability to work in their chosen field. In instances when a person’s criminal history raises reasonable concerns that should be cleared to engage in the field experiences and/or subsequently obtain licensure/endorsement, WSU may take a range of actions, including rescission of admission or dismissal from the program, depending on the nature of the concern.
