

Graduate Emphasis in Aging Studies

A 12–15-hour emphasis in aging studies may be taken as part of a graduate degree program in another department. Students who wish to pursue the aging studies emphasis must fulfill the requirements in both departments.