

Master of Health Administration to MA in Aging Studies

Program Requirements

Graduates earning the Master of Health Administration (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/graduate/health-professions/health-sciences/public-health-sciences/master-health-administration/>) can apply 12 credit hours to the MA in aging studies with a concentration in healthcare leadership (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/graduate/health-professions/health-sciences/public-health-sciences/ma-in-aging-studies-age/>). The graduate school regulation stating a maximum of 6-credit hours of work earned from one WSU masters may be applied to a second WSU masters is nullified. The dual curriculum allows students to pursue two WSU graduate degrees within a reasonable time frame and with reduced financial burden. The MHA program must be completed before any course can be applied to aging studies.
