HIST 150U. Chisholm Trail 0.5 credit hours
Kansas is considered the crossroads for many of the historic trails of the Old West. In its heyday, from the late 1860’s through the 1880s, the Chisholm Trail served as a cattle pipeline from Texas ranches to the stockyards and railroad hubs in Abilene, Newton, Wichita, and Caldwell. It was an economic lifeline for Kansas, helping to promote the railroad and making ranching more profitable. 2017 marks the 150th anniversary of the trail.

HIST 150V. Conflict on the High Plains 0.5 credit hours
In the Age of Manifest Destiny and westward expansion, settlers often collided with Native Americans who had already called this territory home for generations. The escalation of these collisions eventually led to the involvement of the United States Army, and what is known today as the Indian Wars. A series of conflicts on the High Plains will be closely investigated and diagnosed to see did History get these stories right? Has the information changed since then? What were the accounts of the parties involved? And, what is the current view/climate of the situation? This course will explore all of these questions and more.

HIST 150W. New Kansas - Trappers, Missionaries and Travelers - the story of Kansas before 1854 0.5 credit hours
Long before Kansas became a state, it was a wide-open territory – unexplored by the Euro-Americans, untamed by Christian missionaries and home to native American tribes. Explorers, pioneers, politicians and soldiers came to the area lured by the opportunity to acquire land for farms and homes, business opportunities, and the desire to make a free state. These people endured many hardships including storms, drought, sickness, starvation and raids. In this class we will take an in-depth look at the settlement of Kansas and the colorful characters who called it home. We will also look at how the state’s geography, native American tribes and the religious views of its inhabitants still impact our state today.
