

Linguistics

Students can earn a BA in applied linguistics or a minor in linguistics. An emphasis in linguistics is also available through the general studies program or a Bachelor of Arts degree field major plan.

Linguistics courses fall into the following groups:

Course	Title	Hours
Group A — Basic Linguistic Theory
LING 151	Nature of Language
LING 152	Language of Food
LING 315	Introduction to English Linguistics
LING 304	Early Language Development
LING 306	Applied Phonetics
LING 316	English Sentence Structure
LING 317	History of the English Language
LING 318	Dialectology
LING 665	Advanced History of the English Language
LING 667	English Syntax
LING 668	Field Methods of Linguistics
LING 672	Dialectology
Group B — Linguistic Study of Specific Languages or Language Groups
LING 505A	Advanced French Phonetics
LING 505B	Russian Phonology
LING 505C	Spanish Phonetics
LING 635	Introduction to Romance Linguistics
LING 720	Seminar in Old English
Group C — Areas of Contact Between Linguistics and Other Disciplines
LING 351	Linguistics and Foreign Languages
LING 651	Language and Culture
LING 740	Graduate Studies in Linguistics
Other
LING 590	Special Studies in Linguistics

Majors in Linguistics

- BA in Applied Linguistics (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/undergraduate/fairmount-liberal-arts-sciences/linguistics/ba-applied-linguistics/>)

Minors in Linguistics

- Minor in Linguistics (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/undergraduate/fairmount-liberal-arts-sciences/linguistics/linguistics-minor/>)

Courses in Linguistics

- Linguistics (LING) (<http://catalog.wichita.edu/undergraduate/courses/ling/>)