

School of Oral Health

The School of Oral Health consists of the department of dental hygiene and the advanced education in general dentistry residency program. The School of Oral Health offers degree programs leading to a Bachelor of Science (BS) in dental hygiene, and a postdoctoral certificate in advanced education in general dentistry.